Electromechanical Technician

Work At Kohler

Kohler Industries began in 1975, with 3 employees based out of a single fabrication shop in the heart of Lincoln, NE. In the past 40 years, we have expanded to include 7 manufacturing shops, over 8 acres of physical inventory, and 2 distinct subsidiary brands.

We specialize in building and refurbishing the processing equipment that major food producers rely on, including several Fortune 500 companies. Because our team of fabricators work hard and run lean, we take on the challenges other manufacturers won't.

At Kohler, we foster a culture of continuous motion: always expanding, reaching for more, and taking pride in every machine we build. That means your only limitation is how fast you want to grow. If you're searching for a career to take you to the top of your game, we want to help you get there. Ditch the rise and grind for a collaborative team environment, a job that's never boring, and coworkers that treat you like family.
